My dear Mr. President:

I have just learned that about 400 political prisoners remain jailed in suffering Chile. Those of us concerned about human rights in all countries (including the USA!) have looked to your administration to change the sad state of affairs in Chile — we hoped the symbolic pardoning of a few political prisoners at your inauguration marked a first step. Alas! our hope diminishes.

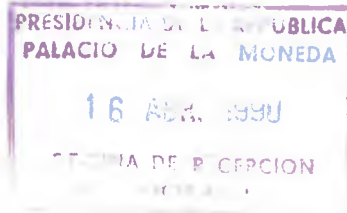

We now learn of the heroic hunger strike by 138(?) political prisoners throughout Chile. My husband and I urge you to act NOW — before it is too late! — to order the immediate, unconditional freeing of all political prisoners, that Chile may experience a purified resurrection & truly a new beginning. Sincerely,

Eleanor N. Hofkes
(Mrs. Francis Hofkes)
