6 March, 1992

Dear President,

I am writing to you to express my deepest concern regarding Death Threats received by members of CODEPU, a Human Rights organization in Santiago, on 29 January, 1992. I have heard that on this day, nine phonecalls were received at CODEPU's office in Santiago, issuing verbal Death Threats and playing recordings of military marches on the phone. The callers identified themselves as members of the Nationalist Combat Front. These threats are most alarming.

I would be grateful if you could do everything in your power to investigate the source of these threats and that those found responsible be brought to justice. I also ask that you take the measures that are necessary to ensure that all members of CODEPU are given adequate protection in response to these most serious and concerning threats.

As I await your reply, please be assured of my most respectful sentiments.

Sincerely,

James J. Connolly
