Dublin

28 December 1992.

Your Excellency,

I wish you, your family and friends every peace and happiness.

I have just been reading about the killing of Nelson Wladimiro Curiñer Lincoqueo, a Mapuche Indian, in 1973. However, because of a 1978 law granting amnesty to members of the armed forces involved in human rights violations between 1973 and 1978, it is unlikely that his killers will be prosecuted criminally.

Is this just, your Excellency? Is it just that people who kill should be enabled to escape prosecution? Such an amnesty surely doesn't bring about reconciliation. It condones the killing of human beings. It shows disrespect for human life.

So what can your Excellency do about it?

Please, your Excellency, safeguard the human rights of all your citizens, especially indigenous people.

Wishing you every success in promoting justice and human rights.

Yours sincerely,

Sean Meehan
