Your Excellency:

We commend your opposition to the death penalty and are encouraged in our human rights efforts worldwide when heads of state reject this "cruel, inhuman and degrading punishment".

We urge you to exercise your power of clemency and commute the death sentence against Juan Domingo Salvo Zuniga.

Over 40 percent of all countries worldwide have now abolished the death penalty in law or in practice. Surely abolition will indicate your respect for human rights of your citizens.

Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

Respectfully

Dear Excellency:

I am writing to express my support of your opposition to the death penalty, and to respectfully ask that you might use your power of clemency to spare the life of Juan Domingo Salvo Zúñiga, by commuting his death sentence.

I am working very hard, both in my own country, and elsewhere, to see that the death penalty is abolished. It is a violation of the U.N. Declaration of Human Rights and is eagerly abused. I respectfully ask that Chile might add its name to the growing list of countries that have abolished the death penalty, and respected the human rights of all its citizens.

Sincerely and Respectfully,
Deidre Jackson
