Dear President,

I got informations that on January 29, 1992, members of the CODEPU, Comite de Defensa de los Derechos del Pueblo in Santiago, have received death threats, and that the offices of this organisation were broken into.

The callers identified themselves as members of the Frente Nacionaliste de Combate.

CODEPU has filed complaint with the court of appeals of Santiago, asking for the protection of its members.

In accordance with amnesty international I want to express my deep concern at these events! I hope that adequate measures will be taken to protect the lives and physical integrity of the human rights organization CODEPU. I appeal to you to open investigations into the source of the threats so that those found responsible will be brought to justice.

I hope that the government will ensure that the members of CODEPU are able to conduct their legitimate activities without any fear of reprisals.

I am yours respectfully,
