

BUCKINGHAM PALACE 30th September 1991

Your Excellency,

I would like to thank you for welcoming me so warmly to Chile. I was honoured that you spared so much of your valuable time to receive me. I particularly appreciated the opportunity to talk to you both at the beginning and at the end of my visit.

I am so glad that during my all too brief stay I was able to see a little of the immense diversities of climate and conditions that your Country is so exceptionally well endowed with; in terms of both scenery and human resources. This richness of texture in Chile's history and its environment is reflected in the range of skills to be found in the various communities. It was a pleasure to be introduced to those communities by the people who know them and who have confidence in themselves, their country and their leader.

I was so pleased that your daughter Isabel was able to show me the Centro Integra at Pintana. I know how committed she is to many projects in the community. I was interested and impressed by the way they are tackling the problems faced by children that are common to so many societies.

I have been received with great warmth and kindness wherever I have been, and carry away with me the happiest memories of my first visit to Chile.

Yours sincerely,

His Excellency The President of the Republic of Chile
